2007 Client Advancement Series
Document Storage & Retrieval (DS&R)

This series has been structured to allow every EXEControl user to take advantage of EXECview to scan and retrieve all corporate documents. Whether your company has never used EXECview or is currently using it for just a handful of document types, this class is for you. For those customers who currently own the required software and hardware, the only cost for the three-day advancement series is the $1,350 registration fee. For customers who have yet to purchase the software and hardware, EGS is offering a bundled package promotion which offers significant discounts. The package covers all software and hardware components required as well as attendance to the three-day advancement series. By the end of the series your system will be configured to immediately start scanning and retrieving any and all document types.

Session 1: Hardware and Software Configuration
Tuesday, October 9, 2007 9:00am to 4:30pm
This session will cover the hardware and software setup process, highlight required programs, and present an overview of the components for the scanning and retrieving process.

Session 2: Association & Scanning Process
Wednesday, October 10, 2007 9:00am to 4:30pm
This session will cover the scanning process and the options available. This includes associating Windows documents, scanning capabilities, and how to troubleshoot and deal with errors.

Session 3: Retrieval/Viewing Process; Storage & Retrieval Process Management
Thursday, October 11, 2007 9:00am to 4:30pm
This session will cover how to manage the scanning process. Topics include retrieving documents from different records, disk space management, and integration into current operations.
